

Paradiddle Practice Pad Workout

By Alex Ribchester

This is a quick exercise I have put together that uses a combination of paradiddle variations aimed at creating equality between both your right and left hand. Try and make your accents heavy while keeping the rest of the other notes a lower volume. You want to have seamless transitions between each pattern and even spacing between every note. Aim to play this sequence at around 170 bpm

